ORDER STAYING ADVERSARY PROCEEDING

PRESENT: HONORABLE SCOTT W. DALES
Chief United States Bankruptcy Judge

Following a sustained period of docket inactivity, the court conducted a telephone status conference on September 21, 2020, at which the Plaintiff Universal Credit Services, Inc., and Defendant Key Bank, N.A., both appeared through counsel. Debtor-Defendant Interlogic Outsourcing, Inc., did not participate.

After discussing the status of the matter with the parties, including the role of the claims allowance process and the relatively modest amount at issue, the parties agreed that the court could help more by doing less. More specifically, they agreed that a sixty-day stay of this adversary proceeding, coupled with informal discovery aimed at showing Key Bank did not divert Universal's funds for the bank's own benefit, could assist the parties in resolving their dispute. Nothing in this Order is intended to limit informal discovery and cooperation, nor will it preclude either party from seeking the court's assistance, for good cause shown, for example with respect to the issuance of subpoenas directed to non-parties. Moreover, this Order shall not preclude the parties from stipulating to the dismissal of this adversary proceeding if so advised.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that this adversary proceeding and all deadlines affecting it that would otherwise apply are STAYED for sixty days from the entry of this Order.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that, unless this adversary proceeding is sooner dismissed, Plaintiff's counsel shall contact the Clerk promptly after the expiration of the stay imposed herein to arrange for a mutually convenient status conference.

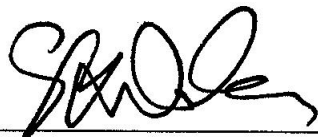

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Clerk shall serve a copy of this Order pursuant to Fed. R. Bankr. P. 9022 and LBR 5005-4 upon Charity Ann Olson, Esq., Curtis Tuggle, Esq., Ronald A. Spinner, Esq., and Interlogic Outsourcing, Inc.

END OF ORDER

IT IS SO ORDERED.
